

Handwritten text in Chinese characters, appearing as bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in approximately 10 vertical columns, spanning from the top left to the bottom left of the page. The characters are small and densely packed, typical of traditional Chinese calligraphy or manuscript writing.

Wm. W. W.

Wm. W. W.

Wm. W. W.